This Company offers to the public all the real advantages that can be, with safety, conceded by any Company. It is firmly established, having been in successful operation for the past twenty-two years. It has accumulated the large sum of $4,500,000.00.

And its Assets are rapidly increasing. Its Annual Income exceeds $1,500,000. Its investments are confined by statute to those most solid and reliable.

IT IS PURELY MUTUAL.

There are no Stockholders to whom heavy dividends or excessive interest is paid, but all the surplus belongs entirely to the assured. It pays dividends at the beginning of the second year on renewal of the policies, and annually thereafter, at each renewal, on the contribution plan.

It has paid out to living members over $1,000,000 in Dividends. Its disbursements to the families and relatives of deceased members have reached a still larger sum, or over $2,000,000. Its average rate of mortality has been very favorable. It is economical in expenses. Its rates of premium are as low as they can be with safety to the insured. No extra rate charged on the lives of females. It issues most liberal Policies, with but little restriction on travel. All the most popular kinds of Policies are issued. All its policies are made NON-FORFEITABLE by law of the State, and no other State offers equal advantages in this respect.

CORNER OF SPRING AND LYMAN STS., SPRINGFIELD, MASS.

AT the present time there are about five hundred of these famous Machines in operation; and after five years of trial, under all circumstances of use, in summer and winter, they have proved themselves to be durable, perfectly safe, thoroughly reliable, and economical. They are splendidly adapted and are used for lighting Manufacturing property of every description, Hotels, Blocks of Buildings, Churches, Dwelling Houses—single or in groups, and in fact everywhere where coal gas can be used, either for illuminating or heating purposes. They have been adopted by the U. S. Government at the National Armory in this city, and at the Arsenals at Rock Island, Ill., and at Benicia, Cal. The large number of Machines in operation for so long a time, without a single failure or an accident to mar its record, is a guaranty to the purchaser that they have got no experiment to try, but that they may enjoy the luxury of a safe, cheap, and brilliant gas-light, through the medium of the SPRINGFIELD GAS MACHINE; being as confident and well assured of its successful operation as they would be of a well known steam engine or boiler. Circulars giving full and complete information, mailed on application.

Springfield.

Our City was never more prosperous and promising than it is to-day. It has in the past twelve or fifteen years grown from the position of a thriving and well ordered village, to a city of from thirty to forty thousand inhabitants and taken on most decided metropolitan characteristics, both in its outside appearance and inside management and conduct.

Our borders are being enlarged rapidly—never so perceptibly as in the year 1873—and our suburban branches stretch from Chicopee on the north to Longmeadow on the south, and reach out towards the "Springfield Mountain" on the east, and "over the river" into the heart of West Springfield on the west; and besides all these outreaches, a healthy filling up "in our midst" is constantly going on.

New streets are added to our Directory map every year, and new buildings, alike added yearly to every street, whether new or old, and in no respect have we grown more or mightier than in our added wealth of churches and school-houses, and public buildings, among which latter are pleasingly prominent the new Hampden County Court House, the City Library Building and High School-house.

The new suburb of "Brightwood" at the north end, near the Chicopee line, which was simply mowing and tillage land not many months since, is now a busy and thriving locality, the new home of the Wason Manufacturing Company and Talcott's Axle Forge, with the promise of other valuable industries to be located there at no distant day. Streets and avenues now appear where the mowing machine and raker and reaper went humming by only one season ago. Dwellings have been erected, and stores are already in contemplation and a busy and beautiful suburb is here already an established fact.

At the South end, in the neighborhood of Mill River, Fort Pleasant Avenue stretches from its southern bank away towards Longmeadow, with the promise of waking up our quiet neighbor at an early day. Personal and speculative improvements in grading and in the moving of old buildings, and in laying out beautiful sites for fine residences are here prominent and promise grand results to both the enterprising operators and to the growth and prosperity of the city as well.

At the eastward, the opening of streets, the grading of lots and a general brushing up on all sides, betokens a thrifty locality, and a prospective growth of no mean proportions in the immediate future. The contemplated railroad to the southward, will, with its depot somewhere near Winchester Park at the junction of the Boston and Wilbraham roads undoubtedly become at once the nucleus of an eastern suburb, and a prominent and important one.

The new iron bridge of the Boston & Albany railroad over the Connecticut River is now being put in place and will be completed early the coming season, and it is earnestly hoped that increased and improved depot facilities will be developed, and completed at the same time.

The business interests of the city are generally prosperous and successful, and there is a steady increase each year of small manufactures, and the addition to our population and wealth which they bring, are in the aggregate quite large, and gives us a good class of citizens, as one of the best results of this increase. The manufacture of the new Hitchcock gun at the Armory, for which preparations have been some time in progress, will bring new life to Uncle Sam's work-shops, where dullness has reigned supreme since the close of the war, and the city will soon feel the effects of this "new departure" of the government, at the Armory.

The Publishers of the Directory, who have had charge of the work since 1859, and have consequently kept close watch of the yearly growth and development of Springfield, find more encouragement for the immediate future, on the issue of the volume for 1873–4 than ever before, and have great pleasure in congratulating their patrons on the bright prospect which our beautiful and energetic city has before her.

The Directory herewith issued contains 10,083 names against 9,395 last year, and the growth has been since 1859 as follows: 1859–60, 3,971; 1860–61, 4,481; 1861–62, 4,607; 1862–63, 5,771; 1863–64, 6,181; 1864–65, 6,924; 1865–66, 6,558; 1866–67, 6,652; 1867–68, 7,509; 1868–69, 7,495; 1869–70, 7,635; 1870–71, 8,386; 1871–72, 8,716; 1872–73, 9,395, showing an increase each year over the preceding one, excepting the years of 1865–66 and 1866–67, when the number dropped off a few hundred, but 1867–68 more than made up for the deficiencies of those years, and since 1868 the growth has been very steady and promising. Giving four persons to each name, as is customary in Directories, our population would now be 40,332; but this is undoubtedly something more than our actual count, and more than a census would give us, but nevertheless not far out of the way. The increase in the valuation of the city last year was over six millions of dollars. The returns for this year show a large gain, but the full amount is not yet ascertained by the Assessors.

Our twenty-first anniversary as a city occurred on the 23d of last May, and it must be gratifying indeed to all citizens and to outsiders as well, who are interested in our city and its welfare and increase, to have these assurances of permanent growth and development in starting out on its first year after becoming "of age."

E and F Relief Cars will Run when circumstances justify.

Springfield in 1873.

GROWTH AND POPULATION OF THE CITY—PUBLIC IMPROVEMENTS—NEW ENTERPRISES—THE SEASON'S PROMISE FOR TRADE AND INDUSTRY.

NEW and significant facts of Springfield's growth appear this year, and especially interest the readers of THE DIRECTORY. A new line of railroad is substantially completed, extending from this city north-east nearly fifty miles, (see map in front,) and cars will run over it in season for the horse show, or very soon afterward. Many towns are thus afforded advantages they did not have before for easy access to Springfield markets, and for cheap travel through here to the West and South And while their lumber, water-power, and granite and soap-stone quarries become more valuable, a larger number of their young people will come here to live. It is partly this tide of emigration from the country to the city, coming in here every year from many directions, which so rapidly increases our population, and supplies our shops with men and women "not afraid of work," and not likely to engage in "strikes" without cause.

The horse railroad has just been extended from the north end almost to Mill River, and up State street still farther east to the new Winchester park. This advance movement of a very conservative corporation, is heartily approved by the people, and there is talk of lines of omnibuses to connect with it from Longmeadow and Chicopee.

Free letter delivery by carriers, who go several times a day over the thickly-settled portions of the city, is this summer established here by the post-office department. While it accommodates so many, and pays well the Government, the necessity for such service is another indication of the activity and intelligence of the whole community.

The City Government is mending the public ways, with a zeal as surprising as it is praiseworthy. Sewers have been built in twenty-two streets the past year. Macadam was laid on seven, and on Mattoon street the Nicholson pavement was put down. The city now has twenty-six and a half miles of public sewers. The Town Brook, however, is too strait for such use. It is, therefore, proposed to relieve that "classic stream" by building a grand main sewer, of sufficient depth and some six miles in length, from the north end across the low lands of Bond and Ferry streets, and if possible through Dwight street southward, emptying into the Connecticut River near York street. Engineers have made the necessary surveys, and their reports are before the City Council. Fort Pleasant avenue has been opened one hundred feet wide from Mill street to the X road. Jefferson avenue is to be completed this season, one hundred and twenty-five feet wide, with a park through the middle, from North Main street to Chestnut, across the poor farm. The latter makes sixty-five valuable building lots, to be sold for the benefit of the city treasury. The poor people and the truant school are to be removed to a farm purchased for $8,000 on the Boston road, and on which buildings have been erected for them, costing some $45,000. Other important street improvements this season are the widening of Pine, Locust and High streets, of Bridge west of Main, and of North Main, the latter having eight feet added on each side from Arch to Chicopee line.

The property of the Aqueduct Company has been purchased by the city for about $238,000, although accrued interest since swells the price to $250,000; and an additional supply of water is temporarily secured by pumping from Garden Brook. Meanwhile the Board of Water Commissioners have employed Phineas Ball, an eminent engineer and formerly Mayor of Worcester, and are examining various streams and rapidly perfecting their plans. It is possible they will decide to bring water by gravitation from Ludlow, which would give a head for fire purposes of 235 feet on Main street, and 100 feet on all parts of Armory hill, while the supply would be ample for a long period in the future. Indeed, while the city aqueduct now yields about a million gallons a day, it is estimated that the new water works, when completed two years hence, can deliver ten millions of gallons a day. Of course, after making liberal allowance for domestic use and for any increased consumption that might spring up by a change of drinks, there will be a magnificent supply for "out-door hospitality," and for laying dust on the numerous new streets now opening, and giving constant freshness and verdure to parks, lawns and trees.

A NEW ENTERPRISE AT THE SOUTH END

Has been commenced by George E. and James L. Howard. The south portion of Crescent Hill on Mill street, as seen from Main, near Marble or Central streets, presented an unsightly appearance, while from Mill and Pine streets the view west and north was hidden by the high banks, bushes and old or cheap houses on that side. The land on both sides of Mill street from Pine to Locust, was purchased by the gentlemen above named, at a cost of nearly fifty thousand dollars. The buildings on the north side, including ten houses, will soon be cleared away. The hill, in some places, is cut down as much as fourteen feet, and for a considerable distance, and will be brought to a gentle slope from Pine to Locust streets, revealing a rare view of the city and river. The work is done under the direction of Mr. Weidman, who is connected with the famous landscape gardeners, Vaux & Olmstead of New York. The grounds, when laid out and graded, will be disposed of in lots of large size for fine residences. R. F. Hawkins has purchased of the Messrs. Howard the eastern lot on the north side of Mill street, and has kept Sackett & Reynolds with a dozen to twenty men and teams at work several weeks, grading and filling. After they are done, Mr. Hawkins will probably erect one of the handsomest and most costly houses in the city. Wealthy people from other places propose to purchase and build here. Beyond Mill river, the grounds of the Messrs. Howard, along the stream, are also to be graded and laid out with wide avenues, developing the beauty of the landscape, and affording attractive sites for residences. From the junction of Pine and Mill streets, an avenue is to be opened southward, across the river to connect with the new street on the other side; and a bridge will be built, quite ornamental in design, and costing about ten thousand dollars. On both sides of Pine and Mill streets, from Maple to Locust, trees and granite curbing have been set by owners of adjacent property.

When two or three shrewd business men expend thus some twenty-five thousand dollars in landscape gardening and "public improvements at private cost," in streets and walks, while at the same time they increase their investments in real estate and manufactures at the south end to over a million dollars, it shows what they think of the growth of Springfield in the near future,— when another southern railroad is built. It should be added that quite a number of other gentlemen of taste and ample means, are moving with like faith and energy, at Long Hill and the Water Shops.

BRIGHTWOOD.

North of Memorial Church, on the Connecticut River Railroad, is the new location of the Wason Car Manufacturing Company. Here, during the last two years, the largest car-making shops in this country, have been built, and stocked mostly with new machinery, and to this location the office and machinery of the Company have been removed. The land, some seventy acres, was purchased by the present proprietors in 1871, and included the farms of J. H. Demond and Michael Roane, and three acres from that of William Birnie. Since that time, eleven streets have been laid out, and a number more projected, and besides the new shops above mentioned, N. W. Talcott has erected a large forge, a number of houses have been completed and many more are likely to be built this season, besides a new railroad passenger station. One firm has purchased seven lots on which they propose to erect a planing mill, and ground has been purchased for a foundry. The Wason Car Manufacturing Company have employed in their old shops about five hundred men, but increase their force here to six hundred, and can employ eight hundred in their shops if necessary. As the majority are skilled workmen, and most of them have families, they will of themselves make a large village, and of course school-houses, a chapel or church, and possibly stores will soon need to be added.

IN THE VICINITY OF LAKE COMO,

And especially on side streets west of it and running north from State, a good deal is being done by private enterprise. New streets are opened, and others improved. Even old streets, as on Thompson, are regraded uniformly, curbed and set with trees, and along their sides, in large-sized lots, appear new houses so thoroughly built and attractive in appearance and situation, that they are quickly taken. The Messrs. McKnight and Haynes alone have planted some three hundred trees in this part of the city.

Visitors to Springfield are apt to take the broad way of State street as far as the Armory at least, and will of course see the fine buildings along the route — City Library, Church of the Unity opposite, and just east of the latter the new High School-house in course of erection. Quite a number of churches are near,— a good sign, if they are as thick in other parts of the city. Eastward from the Armory is the Children's Home on Buckingham street; beyond the lake, a few rods, is the City Hospital; and some distance farther on, is a handsome building for the poor and the truant school, completed this season at a cost of about fifty thousand dollars.

NEW BUSINESS BLOCKS,

On Main, Hampden, Bridge, Lyman and other streets, are just completed or in process of erection, and illustrate the substantial prosperity of the city and the increase of business. Worthy's block, on the corner of Main and Worthington streets, the new office of THE CITY DIRECTORY, is a five-story structure of brick, granite and iron, 48 feet wide and 138 deep; and excepting two stores on the lower floor, is devoted entirely to the publishing, printing and book-binding business of Clark W. Bryan & Co., for whom it was designed and erected at a cost of $50,000. Farrar's block, next south, and Shaw's new Gothic block, on the site of the old North church, are very fine buildings; and the new granite building on Lyman street, to be completed for the Powers Paper Company, will be one of the most solid in the city. Details of these and others will be found under the head of "New Buildings." It will be seen there, also, that a good deal of house-building is being done this season, and on Crescent Hill, Mattoon, Chestnut, School and Union streets, and in other locations, very fine residences are going up. The aggregate of work in this line will be smaller than usual this year; but it will be noticed that capitalists are preparing a large number of building lots, in some cases at much expense. There is a good demand for tenements, and as mechanics realize that real estate advances each year, they are wisely securing lots, and a largely increasing number will erect homes of their own, so soon as brick are more plenty and cheaper, and other conditions are favorable.

People of wealth and leisure perceive advantages here for location and living hardly equalled in any other part of the Connecticut valley. It is rare to find so many desirable sites for fine houses, on high ground, commanding fine views of the river and the country. On the one hand, are the delights of rural life within easy reach of drive or walk, while on the other are social and religious privileges and educational facilities usually afforded only in a large city. Hence, many are drawn here to settle, whose ability, liberal hands and public spirit and intelligence secure for them at once warm welcome and genuine respect, and make them valuable citizens.

Surrounding towns share, as we have said, in Springfield's continued prosperity; and their sons and daughters here have contributed to the fame of skillful inventions, — of a gun that wins against a hundred competitors with severest tests, of dictionaries, of newspapers, of schools,—that goes around the world.

The means of social, intellectual and religious culture, and the appliances and surroundings that mark a thriving city, may well be looked at in detail here, though briefly.

NEW CHURCHES.

Within a few years, seven large houses of worship, costing generally from $50,000 to $100,000 each, have been completed in this city. Two more, one for the North Congregational church, costing some $80,000 including land, and one for the State Street Methodist church, (formerly Union Street,) costing with land nearly $75,000, were begun last year and are nearly completed; another, for the South Congregational church, was commenced this season, and will cost over $100,000, including land. A large subscription has been made for a new house of worship for the Central Methodist church costing about 45,000; and so soon as the plans are decided upon, its construction will begin. A new chapel, costing, with land, about $30,000, has been commenced for the First Congregational church. Add to these, several other chapels erected the past five or six years, and three more soon to be built; also a French Catholic church to be commenced this season on Howard street, and a new Catholic church to be put up on Linden street, and the aggregate is not far from a million dollars. Descriptions of the most recent new houses of worship will be found on succeeding pages. It might be mentioned that still another new church has been talked of this season, to cost in all some $70,000. It is called the "Free Church," is designed to stand on Emery street, and some $10,000 was subscribed without solicitation, not including a liberal offer from a gentleman in a neighboring town. The completion of this enterprise is, however, deferred till another year.

SCHOOLS AND SCHOOL-HOUSES.

A new High School-house, costing about $120,000, besides the lot, will be completed in December, and is described on a subsequent page. Six large grammar school-houses have been built by the city since 1865, at an aggregate cost of not less than a quarter of a million of dollars. They are handsome buildings, pleasant and attractive within and without, and furnished with valuable apparatus and all the modern conveniences. As most of the old school-buildings are still occupied with pupils, some of them crowded, and rooms in the City Hall and elsewhere are taken for the same purpose, it will be seen that the population of the city increases rapidly.

Ninety-three per cent of all the children in the city were in the public schools last year. Pupils are fitted for college, and so well as to be received sometimes in advanced classes.

Several Chinese boys attend here, and have made good progress in their studies. Thirty-one came from China directly to Springfield last year, and another company have recently arrived. They are distributed in different towns and cities where they can have the best advantages. Their expenses are borne by the imperial government, and the Chinese Commissioner of Education resides here.

THE CITY LIBRARY

Occupies one of the finest buildings in Springfield, on State street. It contains over 33,000 volumes, and new works are constantly added in various departments. It is practically free to the public, readers being allowed to consult books at the building, and only one dollar a year being required for membership and the privilege of taking books home. It is open on Mondays from 12 M. till 9 P. M., and on other week days from 10 A. M. till 9 P. M.

The museum, which is in the same building, contains a large collection of specimens, relics and curiosities, and is constantly increasing in value.

A FREE READING-ROOM

Is also provided for the public, in a central location at the corner of Main and Bridge streets, by the Young Men's Christian Association.

RAILROADS.

The one great secret of the steady growth of Springfield is its importance as a railroad center. The Boston and Albany Railroad, two hundred miles long, with a capital of $20,000,000, forming a link in the most important line west from Boston, passes through the city from east to west, and has its principal offices here. The New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad, with over $15,000,000 capital, finishes the southern connection, and with the Boston and Albany road forms part of the most popular through route between New York and Boston,—one the metropolis of the whole country, and the other of New England; and the Connecticut River Railroad, with $1,800,000 of capital, takes the traveler northward, up the beautiful valley of the Connecticut, to connecting lines that will carry him to any part of Northern New England or Canada. The Springfield, Athol and Northeastern Railroad, some fifty miles long, with a capital of nearly $1,000,000, is a new route of much interest, whose early completion has been referred to. Two more new roads — the Springfield and Longmeadow, and the Springfield and Farmington Valley, are chartered, and it is hoped will be completed in the near future. These new roads, while they are never likely to become important as through lines, like the roads already existing, are still sure to be valuable adjuncts to the present roads, and to bring tribute to the business of Springfield. Our city is already one of the most important railroad centers of New England, and with the new roads completed it will have facilities for travel and transportation that will make it still more desirable for residence and business of all kinds. A new iron bridge will be completed, January 1, across the river here, for the Boston and Albany, at a cost, above the piers, of $242,000. It will be 1,265 feet long, with seven spans of extra strength and weight, double-tracked, and of the "lattice" style built by Thomas Leighton of Rochester, N. Y., who has the contract. The crossings at Main and Bridge streets are receiving careful attention from the railroad companies. Their efforts to prevent delays of teams and pedestrians are appreciated by the public. It is proposed to change the grade of crossings where much inconvenience is felt. When this question is settled, a new passenger depot is to be erected.

MANUFACTURES.

Old establishments are considerably increasing the number of their employes, in various instances. At the United States Armory, gun-making is again actively pursued, requiring more men. Preparations are in progress at the Water Shops for making cannon on a large scale, involving a considerable expenditure and introducing there a new branch of industry. A twelve-inch columbiad, weighing 80,000 pounds, is first to be produced as an experiment; and the excavation some forty feet deep in hard rock, and the ponderous machinery, including a trip hammer of several tons weight, make the place interesting to visitors, and more lively for residents.

New concerns appear this year in the city, and the proprietors of one recently removed here, said they were induced to come because the work of Springfield shops, in their line, sold so much better in the market, that they found it best to employ our more skillful mechanics, and let their products go out hereafter from Springfield.

[See "Business Directory," near the end of this book, for complete lists of manufacturing concerns, etc., and especially the index to advertisements, in front.]

TRADE.

More goods, perhaps, have been sold here the past year than usual, especially at wholesale. Some sixty dealers are in the latter line, and their transactions for twelve months aggregate a good many millions of dollars. Prices favor buyers just now, and people are naturally taking advantage of them before goods are higher. Many of our mercantile houses have become widely known by years of honorable dealing here. They doubtless give customers more for their money than can be obtained in many other places; and they can afford to, with sales to residents of so many surrounding towns for a great distance.

There is "cool comfort," this hot season, in the remark of one of our large ice dealers, who avers that competition here is so sharp, he supplies consumers with ice at the bare cost of cartage. Probably this is because of excessive production last winter, and not from any disposition of dealers to "cut under." If the season has been backward, it will interest them and all our readers to study the meteorological record prepared by Mr. Allin, the government observer at the United States Armory, which appears on the following page.

A good deal may be learned of the great variety of business in this city, by consulting the advertisements in THE DIRECTORY, in front, and at the end, and also the brief cards in names. These are valuable, oftentimes, for the information they give, to those who would make or save money.

New Buildings.

CHURCHES, CHAPELS, COURT-HOUSE, HIGH SCHOOL-HOUSE, AND OTHER PUBLIC EDIFICES.

A NEW chapel for the First Congregational Church is commenced, on the north side of Elm street, next west of the house of worship. It is to be a handsome edifice of brick, with Berea (Ohio) stone trimmings, and the extreme size will be 75 by 111 feet, the tower over the front entrance being 83 feet high. The cost of the building will be $25,000, besides land, which is quite valuable here, but of which the church fortunately owned a portion by inheritance from early times. The ample and convenient arrangements for the "Bible service" or Sunday-school, within the new chapel, will especially attract attention, and mark a new departure in New England church architecture. The front part, 43 feet wide, extends back 63 feet, and then the building is widened so as to give entrance each side, from without, to the rear part which, is 43 by 75 feet. Within this is a semi-circular rotunda, around which are separated alcoves for the classes. Above these are similar alcoves on the second floor, but over the rotunda it is open, so that all the school are easily seen by the superintendent from the platform. The pastor's class have a room south of the rotunda and opening into it, but also on the platform; sliding doors may be dropped from between this platform and the vestry in front, when meetings are held in the latter. The vestry will be 41 by 46 feet. On the upper floor are two parlors, each 22 by 41 feet, one of which will also be used as a dining-room; and in the rear a kitchen and two dressing-rooms, besides the Sunday-school room mentioned above. With such provision for joyful, religious and social life, is it any wonder that the oldest church organization in the city has the vigor of youth, while an unusual number of its people live to great age? Perkins & Gardner are the architects of the chapel. Peter B. Johnson is the builder, and is to complete it before January 1.

The new house of worship for the South Congregational Church, on the corner of Maple and High streets, is designed by William A. Potter of New York, and Norcross Brothers are the builders. It is, indeed, a rather bold departure from ordinary models, being much like an amphitheater, and entirely unlike any other church building in Springfield. The architectural style may be denominated the Venetian. The general form will be that of a parallelogram, with a large semi-circular projection in front. The extreme length will be 140 feet; the extreme width, 78 feet; length of the parallelogram, 116 feet; radius of the semi-circle, 24 feet. Adjoining the corner of the building, next to the corner of Maple and High streets, will stand the tower, 19 1-2 by 16 feet, through which will be the principal entrance to the church, while admission will also be gained through vestibules at another Maple street entrance and at one on High street.

The audience room will include the semi-circular projection and about two-thirds of the parallelogram, the extreme length of the room being 92 feet, while it will be 71 feet wide and 56 feet high from the floor to the apex of the roof. The arrangement is such that there appears to be a transept in the audience room and corresponding gables appear in the roof, while the lateral walls of the building are unbroken by any projection. The pews in the transepts, as well as those in every other part of the audience room, command a view of the pulpit unbroken by post or pillar, and not one of the 875 sittings but will be considered good. A broad aisle will pass up the center of the room, with two side aisles. The organ will occupy a large space back of the pulpit, but the organist and choir will be at the preacher's right hand. A commodious room opening out of the choir gallery, may be used for rehearsals and a musical library. In the rear of the audience room will be a social parlor, 22 1-2 by 24 1-2 feet; and in the basement there will be a chapel, 33 1-2 by 50 feet, with sittings for 256 persons, and also a kitchen as large as the parlor which is over it. Above the parlor is a Bible-class room of the same size; over the chapel, a Sunday-school room; over the music-room, a room for the infant class and Sunday-school library; and over the High street vestibule, the pastor's study. The church is built of brownstone, rock-faced, with elaborate trimmings of Ohio sandstone, and ornamental columns of polished Aberdeen granite, and the foundations are also of granite. The audience-room will be lighted by nine large Gothic windows in the semicircular projection, and two magnificent rose windows, each 26 feet in diameter —one on each side. There will also be graceful groups of other and smaller windows, affording a uniform and grateful light throughout the room. The tower will be carried up of the size named, to the hight of 96 feet, the belfry being designed with special reference to placing a chime of bells therein at some future day. A broad band of elaborate tracery will encompass the tower at this place, above which it will rise, wedge-shaped, to the hight of forty feet more, making the entire hight of the tower 136 feet. Altogether the building will take rank with not only the finest churches in Springfield, but New England as well. Its walls will be up and the roof on before winter, and the contractors agree to have the whole completed before October 1, 1874. The cost will be about $95,000, aside from the lot.

A new house of worship for the North Congregational Church is nearly completed, and will be dedicated the first Sunday in September. It is located on Salem street, nearly opposite Elliott. The designs are by H. H. Richardson of New York, architect of the new court-house and the Church of the Unity; and, like the latter, it is of brownstone, but of the Norman style of architecture. The building takes the form of a cross, having the tower and spire on the side towards Elliott street, and a chancel, pastor's study and class-room in the rear. Outside, the extreme length of the nave, including chancel, is 123 feet, the width nearly 50 feet, and the width of the transept 88 feet. The hight from floor to ridge-pole is about 50 feet. The tower is 22 feet square, and the spire above it, which is stone throughout, rises to a hight of nearly 150 feet. The audience room will seat 1,000 persons on the ground floor; the galleries will not be put in at present, but when they are added the house will accommodate 1,300 people. On the north side of the building an addition, 20 by 50 feet, has just been commenced for a chapel, and will be finished in September. The entire cost of land, church and furnishing will be nearly $90,000.

The new house of worship for the State street Methodist Church, (formerly known as the Union street Methodist,) is on the south-east corner of State and Myrtle streets. It will be fully completed for dedication early in the fall, and the large Sunday-school room in the basement, which is high and well-lighted, is already finished, and occupied by the church for its public services. In style of architecture, the building is like the City Library. It is constructed mainly of brick, with trimmings of Ohio and Portland stone, and is 110 feet long by 60 wide. It fronts on State street, and the tower is in the center on the north end, above which the spire rises to a hight of 150 feet from the ground. In the center of the front is a beautiful rose window, one of the finest in the city. There are two entrances, the main one on State street and the side one on Myrtle. The interior is finished in black walnut and ash, and furnishes sittings for 1200 people, the auditorium being 94 by 64 feet and unbroken by pillar or roof truss. The organ and choir will be in the rear of the pulpit, at the south end of the church. The cost is about $75,000. S. J. F. Thayer of Boston, architect; Amaziah Mayo, builder.

On the south side of Howard street, a new house of worship has been commenced for the St. Joseph's Church. It will be of brick, trimmed with Longmeadow stone, 144 by 66 feet in size, and the cost is not yet determined.

A new Baptist chapel is soon to be erected on the north side of Carew street, from designs by Perkins & Gardner. It will be of a Swiss style, with sharp roofs, and light projecting hoods over windows, the latter being of stained glass. The extreme size of the chapel will be 40 by 56 feet, and a spire will rise above the tower to a hight of 78 feet from the ground. The audience-room will be 38 by 47 feet, and there will also be a class-room, 15 by 31 1-2 feet. The cost will be $7,000 for building, and $3,000 was paid for the lot.

The new Court House of Hampden County is nearly completed. (See Engraving, facing page 50.) It is located between Elm and State streets, south of the First Church, and was designed by H. H. Richardson of New York, and built by Norcross Brothers of Worcester. It is a magnificent structure, intended to stand for centuries, and costs, with the land, over $250,000. The house next east on Elm street will probably be removed, affording a better view of the building from Main street. The new court house fronts on Elm street, but is set back 48 feet on that side, and 43 from State street, and is an effective but unpretending building of granite, simple in mass but grave in design, as befits its purpose. The Town Hall of Belgium and the Broletto of Italy—the models for the municipal buildings of modern times—were always characterized by a similar simplicity of general form, though always enriched with an elaboration of detail which would be inadmissible in granite, inconsistent with the sober tastes of New England, and incompatible with the limits of economy imposed by the price of labor in our day. The characteristic features of these buildings are here reproduced with such modifications as difference of climate and customs demands—as the open loggia for general gatherings,—the balcony whence the people may be addressed, the tower to give dignity, and the belfry to announce the signals of public danger or rejoicings. The treatment of the front of this building makes its purpose conspicuous; the tower, with its belfry and clock-face, the hospitable vestibule, and the disposition of the windows marking it as a place of assemblage for public purposes. The general surface of the front is of rock-faced granite, relieved by cut and hammered "dressings," and a trifling amount of decorative carving, confined to conspicuous points. Durability is insured by the material, and by the solid construction which pervades the work throughout; and while the exterior affords no point of vantage for the attack of fire from neighboring buildings, as at Chicago, (the cornices and dor- mer windows being all of granite in this building,)—those parts of the interior which inclose valuable contents are built entirely fire-proof. The general plan of the building is in the form of the capital letter I, 89 feet 4 inches by 158 feet 4 inches in extreme dimensions, with a hall running longitudinally through the center. There are two high stories above the low basement, giving an elevation of 49 feet 8 inches to the eaves from the pavement; and a third story in the lofty roof, the ridge of which is 78 feet 8 inches from the pavement. The tower, to the top of the belfry, is 126 feet 8 inches high. The basement is appropriated to purposes of general storage and heating, and is mostly above ground, so that the first floor is at a level of 6 feet from the sidewalk. On the first floor, the front space, exclusive of the vestibule (13 feet by 54), is to be occupied by the rooms of the Register of Deeds and Probate, on the right and left of the entrance—in the front transverse arm. The portion of the longitudinal arm first approached contains wide public staircases on either side, and beyond will be the Treasurer's, grand jury, witness and spare rooms,—the remote transverse arm being occupied by the rooms of the Clerk of the Courts and County Commissioners, with their dependent lavatories, etc., and the private stairs and entrance hall for judges, lawyers and officers. The front part of the second floor will contain witness and other rooms subservient to the grand court-room—a spacious hall 60 feet square and 31 feet high. which will occupy the whole of the middle space (exclusive of the stairways). The public will be accommodated by galleries on the sides, while under the galleries are lobbies for consultations and retiring, and the passage-ways giving access on this floor, from the front to the rear of the building. The rear arm of this floor has the library and lawyers' rooms—each 22 feet 6 inches by 35 feet 8 inches, with lobbies, private consultation rooms, lavatories, etc., attached. The rooms in the roof will be appropriated as future necessity shall require. The finish of the interior is marked by the same simplicity as the exterior, the halls being laid with encaustic tiles, and the wood-work throughout constructed of ash. Every room, passage and staircase is lighted directly from the exterior, excepting a short part of the central hall in the first story, which is nevertheless amply supplied by secondary light without resorting to wells.

The new High School-house is on State street, next east of the Church of the Unity, and fronting on a line with the latter edifice. The lot is 115 feet wide and 269 deep. Samuel J. F. Thayer of Boston is the architect, and the plans were made after careful consultation with the school authorities and the principal of the High School as to the needs of the city, and admirably embody their wishes. The building will be completed before winter. It is 80 by 127 feet, with projections in front and rear 2 by 40 feet, and the center of each side recessed 6 by 65 feet. It is three stories high, besides a finished basement. The walls and principal partitions are of brick, the former faced with pressed bricks, and with granite and Ohio stone trimmings. In the front part of the basement will be an industrial drawing school-room, 28 by 76 1-2 feet, and 11 1-2 feet high, the grade of the lot permitting full length windows and an excellent light for this room. Back of this will be two separate recreation rooms, each 76 1-2 feet by 30, and still further back will be the janitor's room, 16 by 9 feet, and a laboratory about 30 feet square, where pupils may study practical chemistry under direction of the teacher. The arrangement is such that those who attend the drawing school will not need to go into any other part of the building. The public entrance to the first floor and the floors above is through a portico and vestibule. On one side of the latter is the principal's business room, 17 feet by 11, and on the other a reception room, 22 by 11. The vestibule leads into a hall, 27 by 26 feet, which is also approached by side entrances to the building, which are specially designed for the pupils. This hall opens through two doors into the general study room, but the pupils will pass through the clothes rooms, one on each side, and thence into the study room, thus avoiding all crowding or confusion; by a mezzanine story these clothes rooms are divided horizontally, so as to provide dress rooms for the assistant teachers. These rooms are entered from the landing of the stairways leading from the first to the second floor. The study room is 63 1-2 feet by 45 1-2; on this floor, also, are six commodious recitation rooms. The second floor is very similar, having a study room of the same size, but with seven recitation rooms instead of six, besides a room, 22 feet by 11, for a museum. In the third story is an exhibition hall, 84 1-2 feet by 64, at one end of which are three recitation-rooms, which may also be used as ante-rooms, as they are convenient to the platform; while at the other end are chemical and philosophical lecture-rooms, and between them, rooms for keeping chemical and philosophical apparatus. These latter are so arranged, by means of doors sliding upwards, that the apparatus can be made easily available to classes in the lecture-rooms, or to larger audiences in the hall, as may be desired. Ample arrangements are made for ventilation and abundant light, and the building is to be heated by steam. The boiler and coal-rooms are in a separate brick building, 24 by 40 feet, in the rear. Accommodations are provided for 350 scholars, and the cost of buildings and ground will be nearly $150,000.

On the north side of the Boston road, and about two miles east of the City Hall, is the new Almshouse, nearly completed. It stands on higher ground than the Armory, commands fine views of the surrounding country, and is visible from Lake Como. It is built of brick, with Ohio stone trimmings, iron cornice and mansard roof. The main part is 55 feet square, and is flanked by two wings, each 42 by 40, giving a total frontage of 139 feet. The basement contains the arrangements for heating the building by steam and the laundry, and also three cells in which violent lunatics or refractory truants may be confined. The entire left wing will be given up to the truant department, and contains school, sleeping and play-rooms for over 80 pupils. The dining-room, where the paupers and truants eat together, is on the first floor of the main building, and adjoining is a small dining room for the superintendent and his family, who have a suite of living and sleeping rooms on the floor above. The remainder of the second floor, the third floor and the entire right wing will be used for the pauper department, and has accommodations for 110. The cost of the building, including heaters and ventilation, is $45,000. In the rear is a barn, for the construction of which an additional sum of $2,000 is expended. The almshouse is well built, and an ornament to the city. But, happily, there are few poor people to occupy it. The farm of 17 acres and the shop will furnish so much work, truant boys will not want to go there. Perhaps the beauty of the place will attract paying summer boarders. George E. Potter, architect; E. W. Shattuck, builder; J. W. Hawkes & Co., masons.

On Pynchon street, an addition is being made for the city to the Engine-house. The new part is 44 by 80 feet, similar to the old in style, and connected with it by a mansard roof over both. The middle portion of the exterior wall in front is recessed for a width of twenty feet, with a dormer window in the upper part, giving to the whole a pleasing effect. Accommodations will be provided in the building for another steamer and a hook and ladder truck. There will also be an office for the Chief Engineer, 20 by 30 feet; a large parlor, sleeping-rooms and bath-rooms for firemen, who are required to sleep here so as to be in instant readiness for danger; a room for batteries and another for repeaters of the alarm telegraph; a shop for repairing hose, etc., and stabling for eight horses. The cost is about $10,000, and George E. Potter is architect.

NEW BUSINESS BLOCKS.

At 124 Main street, on the site of the old North church, a four-story brick block is being erected for Joseph Shaw. It is of a gothic style, 50 by 120 feet, with mansard roof and iron cornice, and is faced with pressed brick, Vermont marble and Ohio freestone. The lower floor will be occupied by two large stores. Above will be offices in front, and from those in the second story French windows project, affording pleasant views up and down the street; the rear part of the second story is designed for a large salesroom; and on the third floor there will be a public hall, 49 by 70 feet. The cost is about $50,000, besides nearly as large a sum for the ground. George E. Potter, architect; C. L. Shaw, builder; B. F. Farrar, mason.

On Lyman street, one of the most substantial blocks in the city, handsome in appearance, but unlike others here, will be erected this season for the Wason Manufacturing Company, and the whole leased to the Powers Paper Company. It will be 50 by 100 feet, five stories besides a high basement, built of brick, trimmed with iron on the first story and above with granite, and with plate glass windows in front. The inside is to be finished in native woods, and furnished with passenger and freight elevators. In the upper stories there will be manufactured a portion of the great variety of goods sold by the company, employing a number of hands, and the machinery will be run by an engine of two hundred horse-power. The building will be completed October 1, and cost nearly $50,000. Perkins & Gardner, architects; C. L. Shaw, builder. A little westward, on ground occupied by the office rooms of the Wason Manufacturing Company before the removal to Brightwood, it is proposed to erect still another building similar to the one here described, but the plans are not matured.

On the south-east corner of Main and Worthington streets, one of the largest and handsomest business blocks in the city has been completed this season by Justin L. Worthy of West Springfield. It fronts 48 feet on Main street and 138 on Worthington, and is five stories high, with a nine-foot basement. It is built of brick, with trimmings of granite and Ohio sandstone, and the Main street part is faced with Philadelphia pressed brick, and the whole surmounted with iron cornice. With the exception of two stores on Main street, each 18 1-2 by 72 feet, and that portion of the basement beneath them, the entire structure is occupied by Clark W. Bryan & Co., for whose use it was designed and erected. The business of printing, publishing, book-binding and electrotyping, carried on here, employs 250 hands, and the sum paid in wages and for stock the past year was about a quarter of a million dollars. The counting-room is on Worthington street, on the first floor, and is reached also by an entrance from Main street, through a hall. In the rear, is the press-room of the Daily and Weekly Union newspaper, which is provided with a new four-cylinder Hoe press, costing $20,000, and capable of printing ten thousand impressions per hour. Other labor-saving machinery of the latest pattern is also added. The second and a portion of the third stories are devoted to job and book work, and twenty-six presses are used here. The editorial rooms are on the third floor, as also are the newspaper composing-room and the electrotype foundry. The fourth and fifth stories are devoted to the book-bindery, some eighty hands being employed in the latter. Few establishments of the kind in the country are so complete in all departments; and while the proprietors gratefully acknowledge a generous local patronage, and aim more and more to deserve it, it is true that they receive a large amount of work from other cities and from many States even, benefiting Springfield and illustrating its growth in one direction, at least. The cost of the building was $50,000.

At 305 and 307 Main street, B. F. Farrar is erecting a four-story brick block, 36 by 130 feet, and faced with pressed brick, iron, granite and Berea stone, like Worthy's block adjoining. There will be two stores on the lower floor, and the building will cost $20,000, besides ground. J. M. Currier, architect.

At 186 to 194 Worthington street, near Chestnut, Harvey Lyman is building a four-story brick block, similar in style to the best structures of the kind on Main street, and costing about $40,000, besides land. It is 81 feet by 60, faced with pressed brick, and trimmed with iron columns, granite and Ohio stone. There will be four stores on the lower floor. In the second story will be Liberty Hall, a large public audience-room for Spiritual meetings and other purposes; and above, will be tenements.

On the south side of Hampden street, L. S. Stowe and W. T. Parks are erecting a three-story brick building, 58 by 70 feet, trimmed with granite, artificial Portland stone, and iron cornice. It will be devoted to wholesale trade, and contain two stores, and cost about $12,000 besides the lot; A. L. Chapin, architect; C. L. Shaw, builder; D. J. Curtis, mason.

On the north side of Bridge street, near Water, M. L. Tourtellott erects this season a fine business block, from designs by A. L. Chapin. It fronts 70 feet on Bridge street, and is 105 feet deep and four stories high. It will be faced with pressed brick, and trimmed with Ohio freestone and an iron cornice. There will be four stores on the lower floor, and offices and tenements above. The cost will be about $30,000 besides the land.

On the north side of Bridge street, west of Main, B. F. Farrar is building a store for Walter Miller, 18 by 40 feet.

The Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance Company's fine block, at 411, 413 and 415 Main street, is being rapidly rebuilt, and will soon be occupied. It was well constructed before, for though the great fire of February 6 raged here for hours, it was confined largely to the rear part by the brick division walls and the brave work of the fire department. Mr. Hathorn of New York is the architect for the second building, and it is made much stronger than the former one, as well as larger, and more beautiful in external appearance and interior finish. It is four stories, with brownstone front, as before, but surmounted by a galvanized iron mansard roof, lighted by large pointed windows. The general plan of the interior is unchanged. There will be two large stores on the lower floor; the Life Insurance Company use all the second floor for their business; and a part of the third floor, and all of the fourth and fifth are taken by the Masonic societies, who will remove here from their old quarters on State street, so soon as the building is finished, probably in October. C. S. Ferry, building superintendent.

Hurlbut's block, at 344 Main street, has an additional story recently built over one wing by C. C. Moulton, for W. B. Miles' photograph parlors.

At 253 Main street, B. F. Farrar has completed a four-story addition, 20 by 25 feet, on the rear side of the building, at a cost of $4,000, and extending thus the new store of Eldredge & Lewis.

At 361 Main street, I. Harmon & Co. have added to the rear of their store a new part, 18 by 56 feet, two stories high, making this the largest dye-house outside of Boston. C. C. Moulton, builder; Howe & Whittemore, masons.

Smith & Wesson have nearly completed an addition, four stories high, on the rear side of their pistol shops, costing nearly $4,000. This firm completed last year 20,000 army revolvers of their patent for the Russian government, and also have made for private parties some 35,000 of that size alone. They are preparing to execute for Russia a second order similar to the first, and will considerably increase their large force of workmen.

The New York Watch Company propose to build this season a three-story wing of 50 by 20 feet, in addition to their factory at the corner of Tyler and Orleans streets. They now employ 192 hands, and will considerably increase the number as soon as they have room. About sixty watches a day are made here, and have a high reputation in the market. John C. Perry is superintendent.

The button factory of the Newell Brothers Manufacturing Company, near the foot of Howard street and west of the railroad track, is soon to have a new part added, 25 by 40 feet and three stories high. Some fifty more girls may then be employed here.

On Dwight street, near Harrison avenue, Chester Bailey has just completed a carriage and blacksmith shop, where he will employ twelve hands.

FINE RESIDENCES AND OTHER DWELLINGS.

One of the most elegant and pleasantly situated houses in Springfield, is the new residence of O. H. Greenleaf, on the very summit of Crescent Hill, east of Maple street, and just completed. It was designed by George Hathorn of New York, and probably cost over $40,000. It is an English cottage, built of Philadelphia brick laid in red mortar, and trimmed with Ohio sandstone and Milwaukee pressed brick, the whole resting on a solid foundation of Fitzwilliam granite. The main part is two stories high, with a tower and observatory in the center, all roofed with Welsh slate, the monotony of which is relieved with light green stripes. The total length of the house, including the ell in the rear, is 82 feet, and the extreme width 54, but the surface is so broken with windows, roofs, angles and cornices, all arranged in perfect harmony, as to destroy any appearance of massiveness. Indeed, the house looks smaller than it really is, and has, on every side, the aspect of a cozy, neat and charming home. In front, on either side of the arched and tiled entrance, are broad verandas, themselves commanding views rarely equaled, while above is a beautiful balcony. From the observaory in the tower the country may be seen for a great distance in any direction. Charles S. Ferry, building superintendent; Howe & Whittemore, masons.

Three fine houses on the west side of Maple street, south of Central, attract at once the attention of persons passing down Main street, below Park, who look toward Crescent Hill. The south one, on the west brow of the hill, is most imposing, and is an English cottage, built for J. G. Chase, from designs by Vaux & Withers, of New York. It is opposite the beautiful residence of Mr. Greenleaf, and promises to divide with that the admiration of all visitors. Mr. Chase's house fronts both toward the river and on Maple street, and is of brick, with Ohio gray sandstone trimmings. It is two stories high, surmounted by a tower, and 80 by 40 feet in extreme dimensions. A piazza 10 feet wide extends along the entire west side and on the north and south ends, connecting with a plant stand at the southeast corner. Columns of polished Aberdeen granite support the main porch, and the rich carvings are especially noticeable. The rooms will be elegantly furnished, and each is of a generous size. The house will cost about $50,000, exclusive of ground. North of it is a barn, of similar style, and one of the handsomest in the city. C. S. Ferry, building superintendent; Royal Harrington, mason.

Next north of Mr. Chase's house is an English cottage in course of erection for Mrs. C. L. Loomis, of which Ware & Van Brunt of Boston are the architects. It presents a singular and tasteful appearance externally, and is thoroughly built of brick, faced with Ohio stone and granite, and variegated with black brick. It will cost about $25,000, is prettily ornamented and thoroughly constructed, and Royal Harrington does the mason work. Near, but lower down the hill northward, is the handsome new house of Capt. J. B. Hatch. It is also of brick, in the modern style, with brownstone trimmings and gothic roof, Howe & Whittemore doing the mason work. Chauncey Shepherd builds both of the houses last mentioned. He is nearly 77 years of age, yet still handles the pencil and brush of the architect with rare skill, having recently completed plans for the West Springfield town house. The City Hall of Springfield, and not a few other public buildings and private residences of the best class have been built by him, during a period of more than fifty years that he has been engaged in business here.

On Crescent Hill, east of Maple street, J. H. Appleton will soon erect a two-story cottage, 41 by 37 feet, with ell 36 by 26 feet. It will have a two-story porch and bay windows, and cost $10,000. Perkins & Gardner, architects.

On the north-east corner of Union and School streets, a pretty English cottage is in course of erection for B. F. Bowles of The Republican. It is designed by H. H. Richardson of New York, and differs somewhat in external appearance from other residences in the city. It is built of brick, with a terrace along the front base, and Portland stone trimmings. The main part is 52 feet square, the ell 20 by 30 feet, and the hight two stories. There are truncated and gable roofs, ornamented with crestings and finials, rising at the highest point 65 feet above the ground, and several dormer windows appear in the upper story. The house will cost some $20,000, exclusive of ground. J. H. Marien, builder; Royal Harrington, mason.

The main part is 24 by 40 feet, with wing on one side, 9 by 16 feet, and on the other 6 by 16 feet. The roof is diversified prettily by gables, slated in two colors, and crowned with iron cresting. There are dormer windows, besides a two-story bay one for each floor in front, and a portico and piazzas. The cost will be about $9,000, besides ground. George E. Potter, architect; E. W. Shattuck, builder.

Each house costs about $10,000, besides land, is 25 by 45 feet in size, and has two-story bay windows projecting in front 4 1-2 feet in a square form. The external apearance is novel, in some respects, yet tasteful and attractive. George E. Potter, architect; E. S. Warren, builder; Howe and Whittemore, masons.

An English cottage has been commenced on the corner of Mattoon and Chestnut streets, for Dr. Theodore L. Breck. It is designed by Bryant & Rogers of Boston, and is of Gothic style, built of brick, with Portland stone trimmings. There is a bay window each side, and in front two for each floor. The interior is to be finished in hard wood, furnished with modern improvements, and warmed throughout by steam. Fire Department.

There is a new and more general interest in the fire department since the great conflagrations at Chicago and Boston, and especially since the dangerous fire in Springfield, February 6, in the Massachusetts Life Insurance Company's block. The skill and presence of mind of the Chief Engineer, the hearty co-operation of his assistants, and the noble work of the men, on that occasion, as well as at other times, are gratefully remembered.

One hundred and forty-one men are in the service of this department, and the majority are young and unmarried. Six for each steamer are required to sleep in the engine-houses, and care is taken to provide for each company in its building a pleasant and attractive parlor and comfortable sleeping and bath-rooms. There are two double and three single steam fire engines, two hook and ladder trucks, one hand engine, two horse hose and six hand hose carriages, a chemical fire extinguisher, a fire alarm telegraph, nine horses, and 7,200 feet of hose. New hydrants have been set the past year, and the projective force of those on Main street has been doubled by increased supply of water. Horses are kept harnessed, and are instantaneously released by mechanical device when an alarm sounds, so as to step in front of the engine ready to run. Steam is hastened by patent appliances, and every advantage gained to get at a fire as soon as possible. With what success this has been accomplished, appears from the fact that although many more fires than usual broke out in the city last year, a very large proportion of them did but little damage. A handsome addition to the engine house, on Pynchon street, is soon to be erected, 40 by 80 feet, which is more fully described on a preceding page.

Board of Engineers—Chief, H. C. Lombard; First Assistant, W. W. Day; Second Assistant, Charles Hunt; Third Assistant, Peter Platt; Fourth Assistant, E. B. Hovey; Fifth Assistant, H. W. Keyes; Secretary of the Board, Jerre Sheehan. Office, City Hall; office hours, 8 till 10 A. M., 1 till 3, and 7 till 9 P. M., each week day. Salaries—Chief, $1,500; Assistants, $150 each.

Hook and Ladder No. 1—Located on Sanford street, with Engine No. 2; will be removed to new part of Pynchon street engine-house when that is completed. Foreman, S. B. Chapman; Assistant Foreman, J. W. Dickinson; Clerk, W. A. Withey.

The Government own the steamer at the U. S. Armory, and pay the company, but their aid is given at all fires, when required. The other fire companies are paid by the city, yearly salaries (unless otherwise specified below), as follows: foreman, $125; assistant foreman, $100; engineers of steamers Nos. 1, 2, and 4, being permanently employed, $85 a month; engineer of steamer No. 3, $300 a year, and of steamer No. 5, $250 a year; firemen of steamers, $100 a year; tiller-man of hook and ladder companies, $125 a year; drivers of the fire apparatus, when permanently employed, $60 a month; hosemen in companies of eleven, $100 a year each; Indian Orchard company of fifteen hosemen, $50 a year each; hose companies of nineteen hosemen, $50 a year each; hook and ladder truck companies of twelve truckmen, $100 a year each. Fire Alarm Telegraph.

How to Give Alarm for Fire.—Unlock the nearest box, pull down the hook once to the bottom of the slot, and let go. This gives the desired alarm all over the city, repeating the number of the box five times Remain by the box a moment after giving the alarm, and if no clicking is heard in the box, pull again; if you still hear no clicking, go to the next nearest box and give the alarm from that. Be sure the box is locked before leaving it. The box is of iron, and double, and the inner one is inaccessible, except to those in charge of the telegraph, and the Chief Engineer. One single stroke of the City Hall bell and engine-house gong is not given for an alarm of fire. Alarms will be sounded on the fire bells thus: For box 5, five strokes, 1-1-1-1-1, with short intervals, and repeating. For box 32, three strokes, 1-1-1, a pause, then two strokes, 1-1, a pause, and repeating. Alarms for other numbers are given in like manner.

CAUTION.—Never pull the hook while the bell or gong in the box is striking. Never touch the hook except to give an alarm of fire. Never signal for a fire at a distance, nor for a chimney. Inform yourself of the location of boxes and keys near you. Keys are in possession of responsible citizens near each box, and the police and Board of Engineers of the Fire Department.

Massachusetts, by the census of 1870, has a population of 1,457,351, of whom 1,104,032 are native born, and 353,319 foreign born; the colored persons and the Indians number only 13,189. The population of its cities (including those recently chartered) in 1870 was as follows:—Boston, 250,526; Worcester, 41,105; Lowell, 40,928; Cambridge, 39,634; Lawrence, 28,921; Charlestown, 28,323; Lynn, 28,233; Fall River, 26,766; Springfield, $26,703; Salem, 24,117; New Bedford, 21,320; Taunton, 18,629; Chelsea, 18,547; Gloucester, 15,389; Somerville, 14,685; Newburyport, 12,595; Haverhill, 12,092; Fitchburg, 11,260; Holyoke, 10,733. In 1865 the census showed the population of Massachusetts to be 1,267,031; voters, 246,182

The valuation of this State, by the census of 1870, is $1,684,000,000, against $1,009,709,652 in 1865. The actual wealth of our people is, however, much greater. Allowing for undervaluation of property by town assessors, and for that exempt from taxation and so not reported, and the grand total must be over twenty-two hundred millions, giving as the average for each man, woman and child in the State, over $1,500,—larger, probably, than in any community of equal area in the world. And nowhere else, perhaps, is it so largely distributed to all. We have but few paupers, and most of those come from abroad.

Attorney-General, George H. Williams of Oregon; salary, $10,000. Postmaster-General, John A. J. Creswell of Maryland; salary, $10,000.

Strong of Pennsylvania, David Davis of Illinois, Noah H. Swayne of Ohio, Samuel F. Miller of Iowa, Stephen J. Field of California; salary, $10,000 each.

M.; Wednesday, female prayer meeting, 3 P. M.; Thursday night at 7½ P. M., regular church prayer meeting at the chapel, followed by teachers' meeting; also a prayer meeting at Central street school-house, Thursday evening at 7½ P. M. Neighborhood prayer meetings are held in Wards One and Three, Wednesday evenings. In summer, the meetings begin half an hour later on Sunday, and a quarter of an hour on week-day evenings.

This is our oldest church, and but one year younger than Springfield. It is the second in size in the State of its denomination, and has had few pastors, those preceding the last one having averaged a term of thirty-six years each. The former pastors were: Rev. George Moxon (1637–1652). Rev. Peletiah Grover (1661–1692), Rev. Daniel Brewer (1693–1733), Rev. Robert Breck (1736–1794), Rev. Bezaleel Howard, D. D. (1785–1809), Rev. Samuel Osgood, D. D. (1809–1862), Rev. Henry M. Parsons (1854–1870)

The number of members is 628, of whom perhaps 50 are non-resident, and there are twenty-five over eighty years of age. The average attendance at Sunday morning service is nearly 650; benevolent contributions the past year, about $4,500, of which amount $613 was from the Sunday school; raised for church purposes, $7,629, besides paying a debt of $6,138. The Sunday school numbers 550, with an average attendance of 350; contributions from its members the past year, $640. None of this sum was used for expenses, but a Sunday school missionary in California received $500; $100 was given to aid a student in obtaining an education, and poor children at home were clothed and cared for, as is also done by the other churches.

The young people's society was organized in 1871, and meets in the chapel as appointed, and there are debates, charades, recitations, and readings from select authors, and plenty of music, with a full attendance. President, H. W Shillingford; vice-president, J. L. Johnson; secretary, W. B. Parker; treasurer, Miss E. R. Filley. There are 160 members.

A new feature is noticeable in regard to all the larger churches of the city. People realize somewhat, that while their busy pastor visits at once the sick whenever informed of such and in other cases of need, he can not call on everybody who may expect him. Yet, that he may know of the welfare of all in his charge, and that newcomers especially may have kindly welcome and help, the parish is divided into districts, (for the First Congregational church there are thirty), and ladies appointed for each, who visit quarterly or oftener every family in the congregation.

Parish Committee—N. C. Newell, J. R. Hixon, W. H. Wilkinson; Sexton, Oliver H. Perry. For seats, apply to A. W. Chapin.

Rev. Chas. W. Kilbon, one of the boys of Olivet, has just gone as missionary to Africa to join the Zulu Mission.

The Sabbath forenoon is given to the Bible service, (Sunday school,) in which the pastor takes an active part. This is well attended, especially by the young, numbering 355, and averaging 205; and many of the older people, who are necessarily kept at home in the morning, are accommodated by the afternoon preaching. The average congregation is 400.

North of the Boston and Albany railroad, there was a large population, but no house of worship, nor regular preaching, when this church was formed. It has done a missionary work here. Many of its members were from the North Church; some came also from other religious societies. The help of the children was assured when Scatter-good Sunday school came in. The latter had been started in 1861 by a Methodist lady, and largely sustained by the Pynchon Street Church.

The membership is over 200, nearly 30 having been received the past year; the average congregation, 600; and the Sabbath-school numbers about 450, with an average attendance of 320. The whole district north of the railroad is visited twice a year by the Sunday school teachers, and all children not connected with any other Sunday school invited to attend. An efficient benevolent organization is connected with the church, which holds fortnightly afternoon meetings for charitable work, with evening social receptions during the winter months.

This church was formed of a number of members who left the First Church because they held more liberal views than the pastor. They were incorporated as the "Third Congregational Society of Springfield." Jonathan Dwight, one of their number, gave to the society a meeting-house, built at his own expense, and of such dimensions and elegance as they directed. Other members subscribed $16,000 as a permanent fund for the support of preaching. The pastors have been Rev. William B. O. Peabody, Rev. George F. Simmons, Rev. Francis Tiffany and Rev. Charles A. Humphreys.

The society is represented by 225 families and over 700 parishioners. The church membership is about 100; average congregation, 400. The Sunday school has 130 pupils.

The present house of worship was completed and dedicated early in 1869 and cost $150.000. It is of the Italian-Grecian style of architecture, and built of brown stone from the Longmeadow quarries. The audience room is 85 feet long and 54 feet wide, with walls 30 feet high on the inside; back of this is the chapel or Sunday school room, 55 feet long and 24 feet wide. A tower rises from the northwest corner, terminating in a spire, whose point is 144 feet from the ground and all of stone. For situation, style of finish and general appearance, this church edifice ranks among the finest in the country. It stands back from the street, and the well-kept lawn in front is much admired. Doubtless it has given a healthful direction to the good taste exhibited in the laying out of private grounds in many places. Rarely do we find now a house or public building so thickly surrounded with shade trees as to be constantly damp, as was too often the case formerly.

Parish Committee—James M. Thompson. George Dwight, John R. Smith, A. D. Briggs, George Dwight, Jr. Clerk, James A. Rumrill. Treasurer, George E. Frink. Sexton, William A. Norris.

During Lent and at some other periods of the year, services are held twice each day. Pews are had by application to the rector or treasurer.

Meetings held in the chapel at the United States Armory, and afterwards at the Town Hall, resulted in the organization of this church. The rectors, prior to the settlement of Dr. Burgess, were: Rev. Henry W. Lee, now Bishop of Iowa; Rev. Henry W. Adams; Rev. Abram N Littlejohn, now Bishop of Long Island; Rev. William S. Child; Rev. George H. McKnight.

There are about 360 communicants, and 220 families in the parish. Five Sunday-schools are sustained; one at the church, with 270 members, Horatio W. Southworth, superintendent, and Bible classes; St. James mission Sunday-school, meeting at Oak street school-house, John Thonger, superintendent; St. Peters, meeting at Central street school-house, J. Louis Stebbins, superintendent; St. Johns, meeting at Auburn street school-house, J. E. Shipman, superintendent; and one at the Chapel of the Good Shepherd, West Springfield, Charles Ely, superintendent. The mission Sunday-schools number 200 members. The sum raised for church purposes the past year, was $8,000, and $3,000 charitable offerings Much of the charitable work is in the hands of the Guild, an organization of considerable effectiveness, comprising about a hundred members. This church was organized with 19 members, at the Water Shops, and struggled for years, in poverty and feebleness, without pastor or house of worship. Its first church edifice, built in 1821, was near the Water Shops; the second, built ten years later, was at the corner of Maple and Mulberry streets. The present house was completed in 1847. The church has since greatly prospered, and a colony of 143 members was dismissed from it in 1864 to form the State Street Baptist church.

The membership of the First Baptist church is 465. Since October, 1872, there have been 26 added to the membership; 12 by baptism. During the past year the contributions amounted to $9,014, of which

The church membership is 592; average congregation, 700; number in the Sunday-school, over 700; average attendance, about 500; total raised for church and benevolent purposes the past year, over $14,000.

A few colored Christians held meetings some three months, in 1870, on Sunday afternoons, at the State street Baptist church; thence they removed to Institute Hall, organized a Sunday-school, and now form probably the largest church of colored people in the city. The present membership is 63, and the congregation over 150. A careful canvass shows there are about 400 colored people here, or 80 families, of whom perhaps 100 persons do not attend public worship. Few are aged; not more than 12 in Springfield are over sixty-five years old.

The object of this Association is the improvement of the religious, intellectual, social and temporal welfare of women in this city, especially of young women. To those who are supporting themselves here, away from their own homes, its open and free reading room and weekly sociables afford pleasant recreation and rest. An opportunity is thus afforded them for making acquaintances and friends. Pastors and parents in other towns would help the work, by giving to their young women, coming to Springfield for employment, letters of introduction to this society. Assistance in finding suitable boarding houses and employment is given, and also attention in sickness. Instruction in writing is given to classes, without charge. A prayer-meeting is held every Tuesday by the ladies of the Association, in winter at 3, and in summer at 7 P. M. A sewing circle meets at its room once a week, on Tuesday afternoon and evening, to work for those young women, who, by reason of their employment during the day, are unable to do their own sewing, and for other particular cases of need.

Applications for watchers for the sick should be made to either of the following named: Mrs. A. L. Bowen, Cedar street; Miss E. Warriner, 37 Maple street; Mrs R. E. Ladd, 716 Main street; Mrs. Ammon Moore, 93 High street; Mrs. W. Watts, 41 Dwight street; Mrs. R. Rice, 17 Holyoke street.

Young Men's Christian Association.

Rooms in Hurlbut's block, 344 Main street; open every week-day and evening, and free to all. The reading-room is the best in the city for public use, and supplied with various leading daily and weekly papers, secular and religious and popular magazines.

Strangers and young people, and especially those who have just come to the city to reside, are cordially invited to come in. Any service that can be rendered by the committees on boarding-houses and employment, visiting the sick, etc., will be cheerfully done. George S. Greene, at Packard's clothing house, is chairman of committee on visiting the sick. All physicians in the city have been invited to notify the committee of any strangers here who are sick and unable to procure watchers, etc., and they will be kindly cared for. Dr. S. B. Bartholomew, 387 Main street, is chairman of the committee on boarding-houses and employment.

Evening entertainments are occasionally held at the rooms, usually on alternate Wednesday evenings. The desire for social enjoyment, so natural in the young, has the hearty sympathy of the officers, and efforts to gratify it will be made in various ways. Prayer meetings are held at the rooms on Sunday evenings at 6 o'clock, for one hour; also every week-day at 4¼ P. M.

Young people coming to the city find that their subsequent standing and success are determined largely at the outset, by their choice of good associates, care to improve leisure moments, and kind and helpful efforts for others in need.

The central and pleasant rooms are much frequented. Social gatherings here have "full houses." Some of our best singers and glee clubs add the charm of their presence and voices; and there are select readings and other exercises of a lively or humorous character. Addresses are also delivered occasionally here, by eminent speakers from abroad and by prominent citizens. Perhaps there is no better means of access to the social circles of our best people, than by meeting them and making acquaintance, in these rooms and in the churches.

Lay preaching, under the auspices of the Association, in various parts of the city, has been well attended. Meetings are held every Sunday afternoon at the railroad depot, and were continued seven months last year, in that place. In the winter a room near by is occupied, its free use being given by the Boston & Albany Railroad Company.

Parents and pastors in other places do well to acquaint themselves with this institution, and communicate with its officers when sons and daughters and friends come here to reside. Organized in 1864. Most of the churches of the city are represented in the board of directors. President, Geo. C. Andrews; vice-presidents, H. W. Hallett and O. D. Morse; secretary, L. F. Pease.

Homes for Friendless Women and Children.

The Home for Women at No. 62 Union street, and the Children's Home on Buckingham street, are under the direction of the same corporation which was organized in 1865.

The present officers are: President, Mrs. William Rice; vice-presidents, Mrs. S. Merrick, Mrs. George P. Geer; clerk, Mrs. N. A. Leonard; treasurer, Mrs. Heman Smith; corresponding secretary, Mrs. J. R. Hixon.

For several years the Home in Union street was used for both women and children, but the number of inmates increased till there was not room to contain them, and the Children's Home was erected in 1871, since which time the house in Union street has been used for women only, or for mothers with infants.

The house on Union street was originally purchased for $5,000, and the cost of the building in Buckingham street was $16,000. All this amount was raised by the liberal subscriptions of the citizens of Springfield, aided somewhat by those of neighboring towns.

Since the occupation of the Children's Home, the number of inmates has been constantly increasing, till the present average is nearly 45. The expense of sustaining the institution has been proportionately increased, but the citizens respond with corresponding generosity to the calls of the managers, for they are confident that a good work is well done in these institutions.

Application for admission may be made at the meetings of the managers on alternate Fridays, or at other times, to any of the officers of these institutions.

The number of pupils in the day schools the past year was 4,055; in the evening school, 85; and in the draughting school, 140,—making a total of 4,280, and 710 more than in 1866. Over $75,000 is annually paid by the city for public instruction. Every two years, also, a large new school-house is completed; so that in the past seven years the sum expended for school buildings, if we include the new High school-house, is nearly $400,000. Yet by common consent, the money yields handsome returns, even according to a mere pecuniary view of the matter. For many people are induced to come here and settle, because of the attractive, well-furnished school-buildings and neat yards, and especially because of the superior educational advantages the children may have here. There are no vacant school-rooms, except in remote districts. From the north and south portions of the city, as well as from the center, there is a call for more room. It is certainly a healthful sign. There are also a few hundred pupils in private schools. But the instruction given in our public schools is so thorough, and the training so excellent, that the attendance is not likely to be diminished by any rival efforts. The attendance last year, at one time, was 93.6 of all the children of school age in the city.

Except on Worthington street, each of the large school-houses is occupied by a grammar school, divided into several grades, as the different attainments of the pupils require. Around this, in the smaller old school-houses, are the primary schools of the the group. On Worthington and Central streets, the grammar school and primaries are in one building.

Children beginning in the primary school, in three years are prepared for the grammar school; here they study five years, rising through successive grades to the High School, where, in four years more, they are fitted for college, or the seminary, and so well fitted that Yale, Harvard and the other colleges readily admit pupils from here, and sometimes into advanced classes.

There is one ungraded school, and to this the truant officers, by kind and judicious efforts, gather many children who would otherwise lose the advantages of education.

The truant school is at the almshouse. Juvenile offenders, who might grow up a burden to society and a "curse to themselves," are sent here. The teacher has given head, heart and hands to the instruction of these boys, and the change wrought in their manners and morals is oftentimes most gratifying.

The training school on Union street, west of Main, is found of great advantage to inexperienced teachers, who receive a smaller salary, and are here qualified to fill responsible positions as vacancies occur.

In the High School, scientific subjects receive more attention than formerly. Apparatus valued at $1,500 is provided for instruction in philosophy and chemistry; and lectures, connected with these branches, are given every Thursday afternoon, and part of the year also on Tuesday afternoons, which are open to the public.

The new superintendent, Mr. Stone, enters upon his public duties here with the beginning of the fall term. He comes from the charge of a very successful High School at Portland, Me., and was formerly Agent of our State Board of Education. His salary will be $3,500.

The new Library building ranks among our finest public edifices, and cost, with the land, about $100,000. It was designed by George Hathorne of New York, and built of brick, with facings of granite and Ohio stone; it stands 60 feet from the street, and is 100 feet long and 65 wide. The Museum occupies the first floor, and above is the Library proper. Light is admitted through sky-lights in the roof, fifty feet long, and through windows in the alcoves, as well. The building is warmed by two hot-air furnaces, and well ventilated.

The Museum is now rearranged in the new Library building, and is open to the public on Wednesday afternoons from 3 to 5. This institution originated in 1860 with the Library Association, and occupied two rooms in the City Hall. It has about 1,500 species, and upwards of 3,800 specimens of shells, classified by Dr. Geo. A. Otis, formerly surgeon of the 27th Massachusetts Regiment; also 9,000 specimens of insects; 900 specimens of stuffed birds; 120 stuffed quadrupeds, including two enormous wildcats, killed in this county; 115 species of fish and reptiles; small cabinets of coral and crustacea; an extensive mineralogical cabinet; a large and very curious collection of fossils; numerous Indian and foreign antiquities, and several flags and various other trophies captured from the Southern rebels by our home troops. Additions are frequently made by the generosity of our citizens. Valuable collections were received the past year from Rev. H. J. Bruce, of India, formerly of this city. Do-

Licenses and Stamps.

Licenses of various kinds are required for certain dealers and peddlers, before they can do business. The provisions of law in the matter are somewhat numerous, and are changed from to time by new legislation. Some perplexity results, and it is said that people violate the statutes, in this matter, without knowing it, and have to suffer by forfeitures and fines. It has, therefore, been desired that the essential portions of the license laws, as affecting business people, be published here for ready reference.

MANUFACTURERS OR DEALERS IN CIGARS, TOBACCO OR LIQUORS, do not now have licenses as formerly, under the internal revenue law. But they still contribute very largely for the support of the government, and what is required of them by the last enactment is thus stated by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue:

"The law of December 24, 1872, requires every person engaged in any business, avocation, or employment which renders him liable to a special tax, to procure and place conspicuously in his establishment or place of business a stamp denoting the payment of said tax before commencing business. The taxes embraced within the provisions of the law above quoted are the following, viz: Rectifiers, $200; dealers, retail liquor, $25; dealers, wholesale liquor, $100; dealers in malt liquors, wholesale, $50; dealers in malt liquors, retail, $20; dealers in leaf tobacco, $25; retail dealers in leaf tobacco, $500; and on sales of over $1,000, fifty cents for every dollar in excess of $1,000; dealers in manufactured tobacco, $5; manufacturers of stills, $50; and for each still manufactured, $20; and for each worm manufactured, $20; manufacturers of tobacco, $10; manufacturers of cigars, $10; peddlers of tobacco, first class (more than two horses), $50; peddlers of tobacco, second class (two horses), $25; peddlers of tobacco, third class (one horse), $15; peddlers of tobacco, fourth class (on foot or public conveyance), $10; brewers of less than 500 barrels, $50; brewers of 500 barrels or more, $100."

PEDDLERS.—Extracts are given below from the fiftieth chapter of the Revised Statutes of Massachusetts, but changed essentially, in some portions by subsequent amendments. The emendations up to the present time are here presented.

No license is required for peddling some articles, as appears from the following in the chapter mentioned above: "Section thirteen—Any person may go about from town to town, or from place to place, or from dwelling house to dwelling house in the same town, exposing to sale or selling fruits and provisions, live animals, brooms, agricultural implements, fuel, newspapers, books, pamphlets, agricultural products of the United States, and the products of his own labor or the labor of his family," but, "no articles of the growth or production of any foreign country" are included in this free permit. Minors may be required to procure a license before they may sell articles that adults can sell without license, if a town or city by vote so direct.

Honorably discharged soldiers and sailors, partially disabled by wounds or sickness in the service of the United States, may obtain a special state license to peddle without paying anything therefor, on applying to the secretary of the commonwealth, and presenting satisfactory proofs of such service, disability and discharge, and of personal identity.

Peddling is forbidden by law, in the case of certain articles, as will be seen from section fifteen: "The sale of spirituous liquors, playing cards, indigo, and feathers, in the manner specified in section thirteen, is prohibited." Violation of the law in this and other matters is perilous, as will be seen by section twenty-seven, farther on.

How to obtain a license for peddling, what must be paid for it, what sort of a "character" is needed, and what things may be dealt in, are set forth by the law in the chapter referred to, as amended at various times, in words following:—"Section sixteen—The secretary of the commonwealth may grant a license to go about exposing to sale and selling any goods, wares or merchandise, not prohibited in the preceding section, to any applicant who files in his office a certificate signed by the mayor of the city or a majority of the selectmen of a town, stating that to the best knowledge and belief of such mayor or selectmen, the applicant therein named is a citizen of the United States, or has declared his intention to become a citizen of the United States, and is of good repute for morals and integrity. The mayor or selectmen, before granting such certificate, shall require the applicant to make oath that he is the person named therein; that he is a citizen of the United States, or has declared his intention to become a citizen of the United States; which oath shall be certified by a justice of the peace and accompany the certificate. Every license so granted shall bear date the day it is issued, and shall continue in force one year and no longer. Section seventeen—The secretary shall cause to be inserted in every license the names of such cities and towns as the applicant selects, with the sum to be paid to the respective treasurers thereof annexed, and shall receive from the applicant one dollar for each city or town so inserted. Every person so licensed may sell as aforesaid any goods, wares and merchandise, not prohibited in section fifteen, in any city or town mentioned in his license, upon first paying the sum so required to the treasurer of such city or town, who shall certify on the face of the license the sum so received. Section eighteen—Every person licensed under the two preceding sections shall pay to the treasurer of each city or town mentioned in his license, the sums following: For every town containing not more than one thousand inhabitants, according to the United States census next preceding the date of his license, three dollars; for every town containing more than one thousand and not more than two thousand inhabitants, six dollars; for every town containing more than two thousand and not more than three thousand inhabitants, eight dollars; for every town containing more than three thousand and not more than four thousand inhabitants, ten dollars; and for every city and town containing more than four thousand inhabitants, ten dollars, and one dollar for every one thousand inhabitants over four thousand contained therein; but the sum so to be paid to a treasurer shall in no case exceed twenty-five dollars. Section nineteen—Any person resident, paying taxes upon his stock in trade, and qualified to vote in a city or town, may there expose to sale and sell goods, wares or merchandise, upon obtaining a license pursuant to the provisions of sections sixteen and seventeen, and shall not be required to pay to the treasurer of such city or town any sum therefor." For a special state license, fifty dollars must be paid the secretary of the commonwealth; and for a county license, one dollar to the secretary for each county taken, and an additional sum to the treasurer of such county, varying in amount from four dollars for the richest county to one for the poorest county. Licenses may be transferred.

Peddlers must post and show licenses, as will be seen by the following:—"Section twenty-four—Every person licensed to peddle as herein before provided shall post his name, residence, and the number of his license, in a conspicuous manner upon his parcels or vehicle, and when such license is demanded of him by any mayor, alderman, selectman, town or city treasurer or clerk, constable, police officer, or justice of the peace, shall forthwith exhibit it, and if he neglects or refuses so to do, shall be subject to the same penalty as if he had no license. So much of this chapter as relates to hawkers and peddlers, or a synopsis thereof, shall be printed on every license."

Forfeitures for violation of this law are from fifty to one thousand dollars. Half the money thus obtained goes to complainant.

Pawnbrokers, Dealers in old Junk, and Intelligence Offices, must procure license annually from the Mayor and Aldermen; and if they fail to do it, heavy forfeitures are incurred.

Owners of Dogs must annually pay $2 to City Clerk the first of May, for license of a male, and $5 for a female. A penalty of $15 against an owner, and of $100 against an officer, for not complying with the law

Other Licenses obtained from Mayor and Aldermen, are numerous, and are required for refining, storing or selling kerosene; for hackmen and truckmen; for innkeepers; for auctioneers; and for erection of new buildings, etc., (see page 50).

Springfield Water Works.

Water Commissioners — Charles O. Chapin, President; Samuel W. Porter, secretary; Daniel L Harris, A. D. Briggs, George C. Fisk. Book-keeper and collector, George F. Farmer; engineer, Phineas Ball. Office, 18 Barnes' Block. The Board were elected in 1872, and under authority of the Legislature have purchased for the city the property of the Springfield Aqueduct Company, and considerably increased the supply of water by pumping into the aqueduct reservoirs from Garden Brook.

A steam pump will also be in operation at Brightwood, which will bring into the reservoir a million gallons of water daily from the Connecticut River alone. As the daily consumption is only one and a quarter millions a day, it will be seen that the city is well provided for. The two reservoirs in use are east of Armory street; one is near it, north of Morgan road, and holds forty million gallons; the other is more distant from the street, and near the Boston and Albany Railroad, and holds fifteen million gallons.

There is also a storage reservoir north of Morgan road, whose capacity is more than double both the others combined.

It is proposed to bring water from the Broad and Higher Brooks of Ludlow, over twelve miles to the city. More than ten million gallons a day can thus be had. An immense reservoir is to be built at Ludlow, covering 300 acres, and holding twelve to fourteen hundred million gallons. The dam will be constructed across Higher Brook, just in the rear of the Silas Billings homestead, and will be 1,300 feet long and 40 feet high in the center. The water in the reservoir will of course vary greatly in depth, but will be 16 feet deep on the average. A large part of the land is covered with wood and bushes, which will be removed even to their roots, while the swampy land which might contain poisonous matter will be covered with at least six inches of gravel. At the junction of the old Belchertown road with the south road by the Billings farm, a dam 14 feet high will be erected to keep the water from running through the gap towards Ludlow center. Here will be the head gates and the starting point of the two-foot main which is to supply the city.

Annual rates for water—dwelling house, for one family, $8; two families, $12; $3 additional for bathing tub. Store or office, $4; hotel, $50 to $250; manufacturing establishments, 75 cents for each employe. Stationary steam engine, not exceeding ten-horse power, $6 per horse-power; each additional horse-power above ten, $4. Private stable for one horse, $4; each additional horse, $2. Livery stable, for each horse, $2; building purposes, $10 for each hundred thousand brick used. Rents due on the first of April and October and payable at the office.

United States Armory.

Commanding officer—James G. Benton, Brevet Colonel Ordnance Corps; Assistants to Commanding Officer, Captain J. R. Edie and Second Lieutenant Henry Metcalf, of the Ordnance Corps; Ordnance Storekeeper and Paymaster, Major E. Ingersoll.

The arsenal, offices, store-houses and principal shops are on nearly the highest ground in Springfield, on State street, and command a fine view of the Connecticut river and the surrounding country. The heavier operations required are carried on at the Water Shops on Mill river. Probably in no other part of the world has the manufacture of muskets been carried to such perfection. The breech-loader, model of 1868 and of 1870, which has been made here, was the combined result of the inventions and improvements applied by the government and the highest skill displayed by private enterprise, and it is probably the best breech-loading arm in the world.

The Small Arms Board began its sessions here last summer, and closed its labors at New York in May, 1873. Ninety-nine specimens of guns were brought before it. After a very severe trial, every possible test being applied, the Springfield gun was chosen. Slight changes are made for the model of 1873, the one adopted, and consist chiefly in a reduction of the caliber bore and of the weight of the gun; the lock plate being made thinner, and flush with the stock, and the barrel lighter. Fifteen hundred very excellent swords for line and staff officers, and also cavalry sabers, have been made here the past year, besides a large number of Remington guns. The work done has included scientific experiments, which are made here with projectiles, fire-arms, gun material, and other matter connected with the manufacture of arms. To results thus obtained by the government private manufacturers are largely indebted, and would not themselves, in many cases, undertake the processes by which important facts have been demonstrated that materially benefit them. Making a liberal allowance for all items of expenditure, labor, superintendence, depreciation, condemned work, interest, etc., guns were manufactured here through the war at a cost of only $11.70 each, while similar arms from contractors cost $20 each, besides charges for proving and inspection.

The chief arsenal of the government for small arms is here, and there are now stored in it about 300,000 fire-arms of various kinds for the military service.

The ingenious machinery, the perfect system in every department, and the taste and beauty displayed on the grounds, are the wonder and admiration of visitors from all parts of the world. The successive steps of progress in gun-making may be seen in the specimens of arms made here at different periods, and kept in the museum. Various muskets of other countries are also shown, and there are curious relics from the battle-fields of the war of the rebellion.

Most of the men work by the piece. The eight-hour law prevails, the working hours being from 7 A. M. to 4 P. M. in summer, and 7½ A. M. to 4½ P. M. in winter. During the war about 3,000 men were employed here, turning out about 1,000 muskets daily, but requiring some portion of the works to be run nights.

At the Water Shops excavations have been made in hard rock, forty feet deep, for making the heavy twelve-inch Hitchcock gun. To prepare the ground and procure the necessary machinery for this peculiar manufacture, $50,000 was appropriated.

Dogs—Twelve hundred and fourteen dogs were licensed in Springfield last year.

The Alms-House and the Poor.

The Alms-house and City Farm are on Boston road, two miles from City Hall, and are under the care of Mr. and Mrs. James Cotfran. From 30 to 40 poor people have been supported here the past year. Temporary out-door relief, in food, fuel, etc., was given to about 750 persons, by the Overseers of the Poor. The Truant School is also at the Alms-house, with Sarah C. Alford as teacher.

Travelers who have not means to pay for bed and board, stop over night at the police station, in the basement of the City Hall. Over 1,700 persons have availed themselves of the city's hospitality here during the year. Women and children, as well as men, most of them worthy people, thus found shelter.

There are usually about 90 prisoners here, a few of whom are females. Of 700 committed to the house of correction last year, 550 were sent there for drunkenness. Those under sentence make slippers, turning out about 1,000 pairs daily. Their labor is contracted for by L. C. Smith, at $12 per year for each person in house of correction. The order and neatness which prevail are heartily commended by the legislative committee, as also are the humane and intelligent management. Meeting on the Sabbath with preaching at 9 A. M. Sunday-school, conducted by the chaplain, at 4 P. M., to which visitors are not admitted, unless they aid in this service. Prisoners are eager to read, but the few books in the library are worn out and old.

Places Worthy of Notice from Strangers.

The City Hall, fronting Court Square, erected at an expense of $100,000, ranks among the finest buildings in New England. It has an audience room capable of holding 3,000 persons, and accommodations for most of the city officers, and the Police Court, and for a portion of the High School, until completion of new school-house on State street

The Cemetery, in the south-easterly part of the city, has its main entrance from Maple street, near its junction with Central street, with an entrance for carriages also from Pine street, and for people on foot from Mulberry and from Union streets. Although within this city, it is so secluded its existence would hardly be suspected by a stranger. On a portion of it, the forest trees still grow, and "Nature vies with Art in producing one of the most charming combinations of hill and valley, stream and fountain, trees and flowers, slopes and terraces, and winding foot-paths and open carriage-ways, imaginable." There are forty acres in the grounds:

Annual meeting, first Tuesday in May; quarterly meetings, first Tuesdays in August, November and February, usually held in Common Council room, City Hall, at 2 P. M. The membership is about forty.

Hampden County Horticultural Society.

Organized January, 1861. President, A. D. Briggs; vice-presidents, J. M. Thompson, C. W. Bryan, W.. Smith; secretary, J. E. Taylor; treasurer, Gurdon Bill. Membership, 300. Exhibitions early in autumn.

Hacks.

Every hackney carriage is required to have a license from the city the first of April each year, for which $1 is paid. The number of the license must be conspicuous on the carriage, and also posted inside, with the owner's name and the rates of fare. The latter are fixed by the law at 40 cents for one adult, 75 cents for two, and 25 cents for each additional person; children between the ages of four and twelve are carried for half fare. These rates are for limits extending south to Mill River, east to Walnut street, and north to City Farm beyond North street, and are for day service. Beyond these, only reasonable additional charges are allowed to be made.

Indian Orchard.

This thriving village is in the north-east part of Springfield, on the Chicopee River. It is one mile north of Indian Orchard station on the Boston and Albany Railroad, and seven miles from the City Hall. The ride there may be pleasantly made from the Massasoit House in twenty minutes, any week-day morning, all the way by cars. A stage-ride a mile farther brings one to Jenksville in Ludlow, which is "set on a hill," while below is Chicopee River, the boundary line of Springfield on that side.

Indian Orchard (see map in front of DIRECTORY) is laid out with straight, wide streets, crossing each other at right angles, and contains over 1,800 inhabitants. There are two dry-goods, one clothing, six grocery and two apothecary stores; a boot and shoe manufactory and several small shops in the same line; a cigar manufactory and store, a wheelwright shop, post-office, two hotels, Library Hall, two cotton mills, one omnibus line, and a horse railroad, reservoir, gas-works, etc. A number of new buildings have been erected the past year; and a French church costing some $15,000, and various stores, dwelling-houses, and other buildings are to be erected this season. The railroad from Athol to Springfield adds much to the prosperity of this village, and a branch to Chicopee Falls is proposed.

Indian Orchard mills and much of the land in this vicinity are owned by J. C. Howe & Co., of Boston; George O. Hovey is President of the corporation, and Edward Atkinson, Treasurer, both gentlemen belonging to Boston; Charles J. Goodwin is Superintendent, and A. S. Packard, Paymaster. The mills contain 860 looms and 41,000 spindles, and turn out from 150,000 to 160,000 yards per week of shirtings, denims, and sheetings; two kinds of the latter are made, one of standard quality, the other a lighter fabric.

Springfield Caledonian Society.

President, Robert Russell; vice-president, John Donaldson; treasurer, John Hood; financial secretary, William Dalziel Smith; corresponding secretary, James Ritchie. Number of members, 40. Meets the last Thursday of every month, at room 27, Fort's block. All communications should be addressed to Secretary, P. O. box 222.

Springfield City Directory. 1873-74.

The Names of all members of a firm, as far as ascertained, are in smaller type under the name of the firm, and are also inserted in their place in the alphabetical list.

New Numbers have been applied on the streets, by the city, at the rate of one number for every twenty feet, exclusive of cross streets, and oftener when necessary, so that every separate store, office, dwelling, etc., or entrance up stairs from the street, has its distinct number assigned it. Where no numbers appear with some of the following names, because not on residences, it is hoped householders will soon have them put on. The necessary information may be had free, of the City Engineer, the cost of figures is small and the convenience and time saved would be great.

Even Numbers are on the west or north sides of all the streets.

Numbers Begin at Carew street, for Main and North Main streets; at Cypress street, for Fulton; at the Boston & Albany Railroad, for Water street; at State street, for streets running into it; for other streets running north and south, numbers begin at the principal street from which they run. On streets running from Connecticut River or New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad across Main street, the numbers begin at the river or railroad, as on Bridge, Worthington, State and Union; and "East" and "West" are omitted from the names of these streets. On streets running from Main, but not crossing it, the numbers begin at Main. Other streets running east and west, not specified above, are numbered from the principal street out of which they run.

Court and William streets are numbered from Main towards the river, and do not have "West" prefixed. East Court and East William are distinct streets, and hence are numbered from Main, and "East" is not dropped from their names. For explanation of Abbreviations, see page 136.
